I. Iberian Peninsula EU-Harmonized Certification Requirements

Imports of food and agricultural products into Spain and Portugal are not subject to special legislation other than that of the European Union. European Union legislation calls for many health and supervisory requirements that are meant to guarantee that imports meet the standards of production in Member States. Spain and Portugal, as EU member states, follow all rules and regulations that govern food legislation, including certification, within the European Union. National legislation is also applied when there are no EU-harmonized certification requirements.

Success in introducing your product in the Iberian Peninsula market begins by locating local representation and/or an importer/distributor. The advantages of this contact include market knowledge, up-to-date information and guidance on trade laws and business practices, sales contacts, and market development expertise. The local importer is the first responsible to either the Spanish Government or Portuguese Government for imported food and agricultural products when they enter the Spanish or Portuguese territories. Therefore, the Spanish or the Portuguese importer should guide you through the whole process to market your product in either Spain or Portugal.

II. Application of the EU-Harmonized Certification Requirement

Spain

EU-harmonized certification requirements apply in Spain on all imports of food and agricultural products EXCEPT on imports of processed ready-to-eat products of non-animal origin. In the case of ready-to-eat products of non-animal origin, the Spanish competent authority requires a certificate stating that the product is intended for human consumption issued by the competent authority of the country of origin. Certification of shipments of this category of processed products into the Spain may be handled by the Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture at <http://www.ams.usda.gov/fv/index.htm>

For detailed information on the EU-harmonized certification requirements, please consult the EU-25 FAIRS report, E36071. Under this report, you may find information on the U.S. competent authority that is authorized to issue the food and agricultural import certificates required by the European Union.

For more information on food standards and regulations, please consult the Food and Agricultural Import Regulations and Standard Report for the Iberian Peninsula, SP6018.

This report should be read in conjunction with the equivalent report done by the FAS Office in the U.S. Mission to the European Commission (USEU), E36098.

Also, please check the U.S. Mission to the European Union webpage at <http://www.useu.be/agri/expguide.html>, which will guide you on exporting into the EU.
